NO CASH FOR £72M STATION UPGRADE

JUST over one year after plans were unveiled for a £75million Oxford Station redevelopment it has been revealed that the project remains unfunded

The railway station masterplan included building two extra platforms a new station building over the railway lines and a multi-storey car park

Early provisional designs were released at a project launch on July 24

But Network Rail spokesman Victoria Bradley told the Guardian yesterday there is still no cash for the build

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Councillor on Oxford City Council and Oxfordshire County Council John Tanner also disclosed worries that the plans could be delayed beyond its expected 2019 build start date

Ms Bradley said The masterplan currently remains unfunded and we are working with Oxfordshire County Council and Oxford City Council to secure funding

"The project is due to be delivered in our package of work for 2019 to 2024."

The plan aims to accommodate an expected rise in passenger numbers over the next 30 years

It is to be funded by the city council, county Council Network Rail First Great Western and the government's Department for Transport

City Council leader Bob Price said that the City Council are due to meet with Network Rail in the coming weeks to see the latest designs for the project and to get a clearer vision of the plans

Over half recycling centres could shut

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

COUNCIL leaders are urging residents to air their concerns on plans to close recycling centres across Oxfordshire

Oxfordshire County Council launched a consultation on Monday into plans to save £250,000.

They could see up to four of the county's seven recycling centres shut.

The consultation will run until October 5 with a final decision to be made later this year.

Deputy leader of Oxfordshire County Council, Rodney Rose said: "This is the start of the process, not the end.

"We've not made any decisions on this point.

The council revealed plans to change its £1.2million a year household waste recycling centre operation on Monday.

It is planning to build one new centre to replace Ardley near Bicester and Alkerton near Banbury.

Either Oxford's Redbridge centre or Drayton's centre near Abingdon could either expand or close.

Or both could close to be replaced by a new centre.

Oakley Wood recycling centre near Wallingford, Stanford in the Vale's recycling centre and Dix Pit recycling centre near Stanton Harcourt could also close.

The council had over one million visitors to the site last year.

South Oxfordshire District Council leader John Cotton said: "We fully understand the county council has to make changes however we could be left without a waste and recycling centre in South Oxfordshire.

"We've worked hard to achieve our status as number one recyclers in the country so seeing recycling options reduced for residents is very frustrating."

• SODC leader John Cotton is urging residents to speak up

Etaine Ware, cabinet member for corporate strategy and waste at Vale of White Horse District Council said: "These recycling centres are extremely important to our residents so we are particularly concerned over the potential loss of Standford in the Vale."

The consultation is available in libraries at Oxford's County Hall and through the council's website oxfordshire.gov.uk

£200,000 pay-out to Oxford flood victims

OXFORD City Council paid out nearly £200,000 to victims of the flooding in 2013 and 2014 leaders announced yesterday.

Around 100 residents and businesses were helped by a council relief scheme.

The council say money went to homes and businesses directly affected by flooding.

Council leader Bob Price said: "I am pleased that we have been able to support those residents and businesses after what was a very difficult and upsetting time.

"The variety of awards on offer meant that regardless of how they were affected people were able to receive support."

Victims of flooding had their council tax bills cut, were given business rates support and repair and renewal grants to pay for prevention measures such as flood gates.

Oxford city was hit heavily by flooding in both 2013 and 2014.

Abingdon Road and neighbouring roads around Weirs Lane, Botley Road and Binsey Lane were among the worst areas flooded in Oxford.

Cllr Price added: "In the future the council will be looking to all possible options for flood alleviation to ensure that circumstances like those in 2013 to 2014 are not repeated."

Fundraising for a flood alleviation channel – which would divert water from the Thames west of Oxford to Sandford on Thames – is currently underway.

Over £100m has been raised towards the £120m project and work could start by 2018.

• Abingdon Road and its residents and businesses were hit by severe flooding in both 2013 and 2014

Baby death

OXFORD A one-month-old baby from Oxford has died but a cause of death has not yet been determined.

Martin McDonagh died on July 26 at John Radcliffe Hospital.

An inquest into his death was opened last Thursday at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road.

The coroner said the cause of death is pending further tests.

A full inquest has provisionally been listed for January 13.

CCTV Image

EYNSHAM Police released a CCTV image on Tuesday of a man they are looking for in connection with a Co-op robbery in which a member of staff was threatened with a knife.

The robbery was at 6.45pm on July 15.

The offender hid the knife in a sock.

The store employee handed over cash from the till drawer before the offender ran out of the High Street shop before fleeing down Lombard Street.

Thames Valley Police are looking to speak to anyone with information about the incident via the 101 number.

Residents pen opposition to Oxford transport plan

Fears station work could be delayed

Cllr Price said "We are still waiting for Network Rail to come forward with new details on the project.

"We are pushing to get the funding we need as we want to get this project going as quickly as possible but we are worried about the financial and management problems that Network Rail has been having and what their position on the plans for Oxford are."

Cllr Tanner said "We were made promises by the government before the election that we would have the new station and the electrification of the railway would be complete in five years."

He added: "However with the cuts that the councils have been suffering from it is likely that delays will happen with this project.

"Everybody is very worried about the much needed investment and whether or not we would be able to get it.

"Both councils are currently working very hard to get the investment for the project as it is vital to get these plans in motion."

The electrification of the railway line is a £2billion project of the Great Western Mainline to allow faster electric trains to operate on the line through Oxford and provide more seats for passengers.

Oxford City Council's west area planning committee unanimously approved work to extend the platforms at Oxford Station on Tuesday night.

The longer platforms are to allow Chiltern Railways to run services between Oxford and London Marylebone.

And planning permission to build a new Network Rail accommodation block was also granted.

Ms Bradley explained the works are the first phase of the £73m masterplan although the designs and funding for the full masterplan are not in place.

Building work on phase one is due to begin this September and is expected to be completed by next summer.

▪ A map of new Oxfordshire County Council transport plans for Cherwell Drive in Marston

A PETITION opposing transport changes in Headington and Marston has gathered 600 signatures in the two weeks since it was started.

Oxfordshire County Council has proposed a new cycle lane and bus lane in Cherwell Drive as part of its 'Access to Headington Transport' project.

However some residents feel the work is unnecessary.

Malcolm Kitching, 74, who lives in Marston's Lewell Avenue said: "I think it's a terrible. People in Cherwell Drive are up in arms about it.

"The council is planning on tearing up the trees and verges to put in a bus lane for 300 yards.

"There is no point in having a bus lane for just 300 yards. They should just leave it as it is."

Oxford City Councillor for the Marston ward Mick Haines has been gathering signatures opposing the plans for a fortnight.

At the time of writing yesterday it had reached 601 signatures.

By Alex Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Cllr Haines said: "They're planning to tear up the verges on Cherwell Drive which will affect flooding and Marston already has a flooding problem.

"They also want to get rid of all of the parking spaces on the road.

"This is going to bring the bus lane right up to the front of people's houses."

The changes would be part of a £12.5million package aimed at improving employment, health and education sites in Headington without increasing traffic.

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council Ian Hudspeth said: "It's a proposal we're putting forward to relieve traffic congestion.

"We do need to take action to relieve congestion in Marston and Headington or residents are going to suffer."

The council has also suggested works on Headley Way to improve access to the John Radcliffe Hospital including replacing the roundabout with traffic lights.

Cllr Haines added: "Only three people I've spoken to support the traffic lights. I would say 98 per cent are opposed."

A public consultation on the plans ended on August 3 but a start date for the work has not yet been set.

Cllr Haines said he will hand the petition to the council.

VJ day flag

OXFORD Oxford is set to mark VJ Day by flying the Union Flag above Oxford Town Hall on Saturday.

The day will mark 70 years since the end of war in Japan on August 15 1945 after Japan surrendered to the Allies after six years of war.

Japan's surrender brought the Second World War to an end after having claimed up to 80million lives.

Man collapsed

OXFORD A man was rushed to the John Radcliffe Hospital in a life threatening condition yesterday after collapsing in Oxford High Street.

Catherine Morrow, spokesperson for South Central Ambulance Service said: "We received a call at 11.37am for a medical emergency.

"Two South Central Ambulance Service staff were believed to have been on the scene after coming across the incident.

"The service sent an extra ambulance, crew officer and a rapid response vehicle to take the patient to hospital."

Seaside inside

OXFORD Oxfordshire care homes residents can attend a seaside themed fun day at The Kings Centre in Osney Mead next Wednesday August 19.

A photobooth, a visit from real donkeys and fish and chips will be on offer from 11am to 3pm, organised by The Orders of St John Care Trust.

Didcot's Mr Muscle cleans up

Chris Charles on stage (photo by Matt Marsh)

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@trinitynewspapers.co.uk

A DAD of two from Didcot won a regional fitness contest on Saturday, securing his place in the national finals.

Chris Charles, of Dart Drive in Ladygrove, lifted the trophy at Port Talbot in Wales after a day of muscle poses and parading.

Mr Charles, 37, has been weight lifting for two years and training for the contest for six months.

He said: "I was really nervous in the weeks leading up to the event, but on the day I was feeling good.

"It was a physique contest so judges aren't looking at just how big you are. They look at symmetry as well as your poses.

"I did about six months prep but the last eight weeks of dieting were really brutal."

Mr Charles, who owns a flooring business, is now set to compete in the UK Ultimate Physique finals in Stoke on November 7.

Mr Charles's wife Alice, 35, daughter Hollie, 15, and son Owen, six, supported him from the crowd.

He added: "I wasn't expecting to win at all.

"I'll be going in to the finals to win, but if I finish top five or top three I'll be ecstatic."

Mr Charles is a taekwondo black belt, and started weightlifting two years after sustaining an injury when he found it was the only exercise he could do.

He said: "I was lifting and I just decided I needed a challenge."

Mrs Charles said she wasn't surprised when he announced his fitness ambition.

"He's always been a very active person," she said.

"I said as long as it didn't affect our family life then I'd support him.

"We're really proud of him. He's always really dedicated.

"The family helped out. Our daughter Hollie is a little older so she was able to look after the younger one."

But Mr Charles believes not everyone understands weightlifting and fitness competitions.

He said: "Don't knock it until you've tried it. It's not for everyone. People tend to put it down because they don't understand.

"I'm not doing it to go to Ibiza. I'm doing it for myself."

Zoo rated 4th in the UK

Cotswold Wildlife Park was rated fourth best

COTSWOLD Wildlife Park is celebrating being named the fourth best zoo in the UK.

To mark the accolade the Oxfordshire Guardian was given a tour of the Burford park.

The results of the TripAdvisor Traveller's Choice Attractions Awards were announced July 15 and also named the park the 12th best in Europe.

The managing director of the park Reggie Heyworth said: "We are so delighted about our TripAdvisor award.

"It's a huge encouragement to all the staff here when people take the time to give praise."

Winners were chosen using an algorithm that looked at the quantity and quality of reviews gathered over a 12 month period.

The park was first opened at the Heyworth family home in 1970 when Mr Heyworth's father borrowed £40,000 to open the park.

First place went to Chester Zoo in Cheshire.

Hospital future

CHIPPING NORTON Oxfordshire County Council has announced a consultation on plans to close the intermediate care unit at Chipping Norton Community Hospital will go ahead.

A decision to suspend the consultation was made at a meeting last month attended by Witney MP David Cameron.

The decision to suspend was made so health bosses could find a way to save the unit.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet is set to confirm the dates of a consultation on the hospital unit's future on September 15.

VJ day service

OXFORD Lord Mayor of Oxford Rae Humberstone and Blenheim Palace's Duke of Marlborough are attending a service on Sunday to commemorate VJ Day.

The service will take place at St Mary Magdalene Church in Market Place, Woodstock to mark the day Japan surrendered from the Second World War, bringing it to an end.

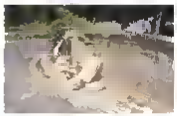
Closed bridge

FARINGDON Radcot Bridge over the River Thames is shut for up to 19 days after a lorry crashed into it

The bridge that links Faringdon with Carterton as part of the A4095 suffered structural damage in the incident at 9 30am on Tuesday

It is a Grade I listed bridge and the closure has been issued by the Environment Agency and Highways Agency



Man sought

BICESTER. CCTV images were released by police yesterday after a vacuum cleaner was shoplifted from Sainsbury's in Pioneer Square

The theft took place at 5pm on June 30 when a man entered the store, selected a vacuum cleaner and left the store without making an attempt to pay

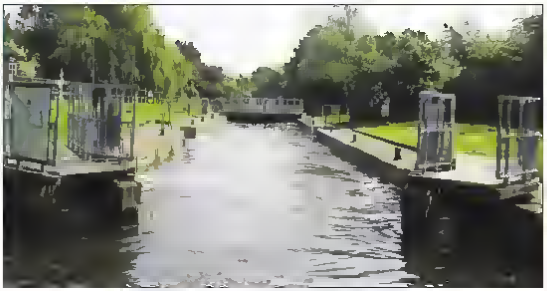
Work set for three Oxfordshire locks

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@tnpnewspapers.co.uk



Work is due to begin on three Oxfordshire locks including Culham lock in November

THE Environment Agency (EA) has announced it will carry out renovations on eight River Thames locks during the winter including three in Oxfordshire

The work was announced on Tuesday and is due to begin in November lasting through to March

Those in Oxfordshire that will be upgraded are Godstow Lock near Wolvercote Culham Lock near Abingdon and Day's Lock near Dorchester-on-Thames

Work on all eight sites will cost £1million and aims to keep them in working order for years to come

The general manager of Oxfordshire Narrowboats Phil Holman said "It's very important they carry out this maintenance work

"Not all of our customers use the river most of them use the canal But for those that do its vital the locks are in good condition

The EA's water engineer for the Thames, Barrie Douglass said 'Any work at a lock site, even a relatively minor repair can be a complex undertaking

"Maintaining critical navigation assets in safe working order is our number one priority

"It has to be because if we allowed them to fall into disrepair and become unfit for use then boating on the Thames as we've known it for the last hundred years or so would just not be possible

Work will include re-sheeting the heads repairing tail lock gates and the refurbishment of lock chambers

The EA maintains over 1 000 so-called 'navigation assets on the Thames with an estimated value of £425m

The assets include bridges locks lock houses and access roads many of which being heritage sites

Mr Holman added "They do the work out of season so it will be ready for the summer

"There are less boats on the river

Mr Douglass added "The income we get from boater's registration fees isn't enough to cover the cost of all the work we need to do each year however"

He continued "Fortunately we receive a significant top up from Government which we invest very carefully to ensure maximum value for money for the taxpayer"

Man guilty of sexual offences

A JURY found a 42 year-old man guilty of raping a woman in Headington by unanimous verdict at Oxford Crown Court on Monday

Catalin Horhota, of no fixed abode was convicted of eight sexual offences and one burglary after a five day trial.

He is due to be sentenced on October 9

Investigating officer detective constable David Rogers of the force's criminal investigation department in Oxford said "The victims have shown immense courage throughout our investigation and subsequent trial."

Horhota was first arrested on September 20 last year and charged on September 22

The first offence was on September 17 last year when he burgled a property in Morrell Avenue near Oxford a Headington Hill and stole food.

Two days later he raped a woman in nearby Roosevelt Drive and stole a pair of keys from the property before fleeing the scene

About an hour later Horhota returned and sexually assaulted her and another woman at the property

Then on September 20 he sexually assaulted a woman in South Park

The final offence was on September 22 last year when he exposed himself in Abingdon.

Former Lord Mayor was a 'shining light'

FORMER Lord Mayor of Oxford and city councillor Carole Roberts has been praised as a shining light after losing her battle with cancer on Sunday at the Churchill Hospital in Headington.

The former Labour councillor 71 had represented Northfield Brook Rose Hill Iffley and Temple Cowley in her political career

She was given a merit award on August 3 by the Labour Party s national executive committee, which is reserved for members 'who have a distinguished history of service to their local communities

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said Carole dedicated her self as a city councillor and subsequently as the manager of the Rose Hill and Donnington Advice centre helping the disadvantaged.

"She understood the problems of poverty unemployment and the difficulties faced by many families in gaining access to the help and support to which they are entitled

"Carole was a warm and funny colleague who expressed her opinions with candour and great force She was a loyal and much valued colleague who will be widely mourned"

Carole served as Lord Mayor in 1998-99 and previously held the post of Deputy Lord Mayor and Sheriff

Rae Humberstone said she was a shining light that had gone out

Cllr Humberstone said Carole was a hard worker for the local people I know that she will be sorely missed by all who worked with her and knew her

"She was well known around the council and a lot of anecdotes have been told about Carole and the work that she put in. She could be a feisty character"

It s such a shame the like of her will never be seen again as she was a one-off in terms of the work she did and the support she provided for her constituents"

Carole joined the Labour Party in 1959 and was recuperating from treatment at the hospital when she passed away

When she stepped down as a councillor for Iffley in 2002 she had served on the authority for almost 20 years

She was a great grandmother with 13 grandchildren, and leaves behind three children Debbie Tony and Michael

Her husband Jimmy Roberts who she lived with in Blackbird Leys died aged 80 in 2006

Funding appeal

WITNEY Meditation charity Oxfordshire Family Meditation (OFM) has launched a fundraising appeal to raise money for its service that aids young children going through their parents divorce or separation

The Children s Voice service offers one to one therapeutic support for young people aged six to 18

OFM is hoping to raise £7 000 for the service by September 2 and says the funds will help support 30 Oxfordshire families and offer 140 sessions to children and young people free of charge

To donate go to crowdfunder co.uk and search help children survive family breakdown

Brookes was ranked 17th of 120 English higher education institutions for student satisfaction

Oxfam's annual income passes the £400m mark

COWLEY BASED charity Oxfam has revealed a three per cent rise in income of £401 4million over the last year in their annual report

The charity revealed the figures in their annual report on Monday which saw the organisation spend over £296 4m on charitable activities and respond to 39 international emergencies such as the Ebola outbreak in West Africa and the conflicts in Syria and South Sudan

Donations to the charity from institutions such as the UK government were revealed to be £204 3m with £180 1m raised from public fundraising.

Oxfam chief executive Mark Goldring said in a statement I want to say a special thank you to everyone that supported Oxfam this year "Your support has allowed us to do some really important work.

There have been some pretty horrific disasters that we d had to respond to

Your efforts have made a huge difference and your generosity has allowed Oxfam to respond quickly on a large scale

'We couldn t have done it without your help"

The report claims that the charity supported 8 1m people by providing clean water sanitation and food compared to 6 1 million in 2013 14

However there was a fall of 2.5 per cent in income from high street stores which the report blames on the shortage of high quality donated goods and as the result of a difficult trading year

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which have steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frame as has grown rapidly as low answers take advantage of their success.

Managing Director James Millet feels that it's all about service.

Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that sharing the good times is a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they usually don't expect that sort of service which in a way is very sad for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear service extends also from their local dealers and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. The truths that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help.

Opposition voiced over centre plans

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@tigernewspapers.co.uk

PLANS for Oxford City Council to take over the East Oxford Community Centre have been hit by strong opposition from groups based there.

The council is set to take over management of the centre in Princes Street, from September 1 because it is unhappy with those running the site.

Last week the council announced it will conduct a £200,000 feasibility study to help find £1.5million for improvements to the centre.

But the news has been met with criticism from some groups.

June James, the founder and director of African and African Caribbean Kultural Heritage Initiative (ACKHI) who are based at the centre, said: "I see no reason for the city council to take over.

"If they think the centre is badly managed then it has been badly managed for 10 years and they never stepped in before.

She added: "I wonder if they have ulterior motives."

The East Oxford Community Centre

The council has listed a number of options for raising funds from the centre, including the potential sale of Film Oxford's base in St Catherine Street and East Oxford Games Hall in Collins Street.

Christine Simm, the city council's board member for communities and culture, said: "The council and many others have been seriously concerned with the way the centre has been run.

"Despite warnings, nothing has changed.

"We will be making small improvements and adding new and exciting sessions and activities to what is already on offer."

Catherine Gundry, the secretary of the East Oxford Community Association that runs the centre, said: "There were difficulties in the management of the centre but those have been addressed.

"There was an issue with the bar's constitution that meant that in the wrong hands somebody could steal a lot of money and that is what happened.

But we've now changed the constitution so that can't happen. We've got good books now."

The association held an extraordinary general meeting (EGM) at the centre on Monday August 10 to discuss their next steps.

Ms Gundry added: "About 30 people attended the EGM. It was a sad but constructive meeting.

"We're now going to approach individual councillors to gain support and try to stop the council taking over."

Uni scheme to battle 'lad culture'

OXFORD University Student's Union (OUSU) has joined the National Union of Students' (NUS) Lad Culture pilot scheme.

The scheme will see nine student unions across the country collaborate with the NUS to discuss policy to tackle sexism in higher education.

The vice president of the OUSU Lucy Delaney said: "We are really excited to be part of the scheme.

"Signing up to it has allowed us to identify specific areas for improvement, enabling us to move forward with clearer tangible targets for tackling harassment and rape culture amongst our student body."

The NUS has carried out two studies into sexual harassment in recent years: Hidden Marks in 2010 and That's What She Said in 2013.

Both looked at female students' experiences of lad culture, violence and sexual harassment.

Susuana Amoah the NUS's women's officer, said: "We want to offer support, encouragement and resources to move this work forward on the ground, whilst building our knowledge and understanding of what this issue looks like in different places."

Into the Wilderness

THOUSANDS headed to Oxfordshire woods to enjoy the full artistic spectrum of the Wilderness Festival from Thursday to Sunday.

The four-day arts festival brought together music, food, theatre and philosophy for 22,000 visitors at Cornbury Park.

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Now in its fifth year, this summer's festival was headlined by Bjork and Ben Howard.

And organisers have said they do not want to sacrifice quality for size.

The event's general manager, Rufus Lawrence, said: "We kept the festival the same size as last year. We wanted to focus on the quality for our customers.

"This is my first year with Wilderness and I think it was a humbling experience when the doors opened and to see all the people flooding in.

"It's a combination of all the arts in a naturally beautiful part of the country."

The festival included a long table banquet with Raymond Blanc and a stage performance of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland.

A fiction tent also offered workshops on how to write your debut novel and a literary classics quiz.

Musician Jess Goyder from Charlbury was one of the acts who performed on Saturday evening on The Bandstand Stage.

She said: "It was gorgeous. It was a really lovely location.

"It's completely different to most festivals. It's very cerebral.

"Performing was definitely the highlight for me."

Ms Goyder, who now lives in London, said: "I've played here every year and I think I will come back again next year.

"I love the opportunity to play in Oxfordshire."

Aurora, a 19-year-old singer-songwriter from Norway, also played The Bandstand Stage on Friday night.

She said: "It was wonderful. There were so many people, it was really lovely to play there.

"People were just sitting down on the grass and were really relaxed.

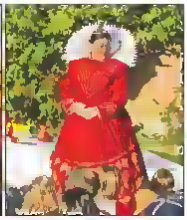
'During my set a few girls started dancing and from then everyone got up and started dancing. I even got to play an encore. I did Hakuna Matata."

Mr Lawrence added: "Next year we'll be looking to be in a lot of literary themes. There are a lot of literary birthdays and centenaries so we'll be looking for those to run though the whole festival.

"And we've already started looking for our headliners."

• Bjork graced the main stage with an electrifying performance

• Saturday night's festival headline act indie folk star Ben Howard



• Youngsters were enthralled by a performance of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland

• The festival brought together music, food and art

Timber yard to close?

A TIMBER yard in Cowley road could be shut down to make way for a 60 bed care home

The W G Powell timber yard could close after 90 years of business, to be replaced by a new care home

An outline planning application for the development was unanimously approved by members of Oxford City Council's East Area planning committee during a meeting last Wednesday

Councillor for Cowley Marsh ward Sajjad Malik said "The owners of the timber yard have said they want to retire and to move on and sell the site

"It is my understanding that it is currently up for sale"

The planning application included proposals for a 60 bed care home over three floors and 20 parking spaces as well as plans to turn two bedsits into a one bed house

Cllr Malik added "It's a very positive thing as it will remain an employment site

"There were some concerns from residents about the application changing but they have been addressed in the conditions

"I spoke in favour of the care home at the meeting"

The application was made by Montpelier Estates Ltd, based in Aylesbury who design and develop healthcare facilities

Montpelier's director John Horsman said negotiations are currently underway with potential operators for the care home, and that work could start by autumn

Mr Horsman added, "We're looking at a 15 month construction programme so people could be living there by the end of 2016

Councillor Roy Darke, chairman of the council's East Area planning committee, said, "Apparently 23 people would be employed and that is more than are working at the site now"

Montpelier also have to submit a detailed planning application to set out the designs for the care home

W G Powell was unavailable for comment.

▪ Alexander Green 29

Alexander Green 29 from Stratford-upon Avon in Warwickshire and his friend Mark Smith, 33 from Tonbridge in Kent died when their car left the road and hit a sign while driving south on the M40 on July 27

Mr Green's wife Jessica said "We spent ten wonderful years together. He was my best friend as well as my husband and we knew each other inside out

"I will always treasure the memories we shared but it feels like I have lost a part of me"

The couple married in 2012 after meeting in 2004

Mr Green's family said he was a charitable man who worked with children suffering from autism outside of his job as a teaching assistant at a primary school in Stratford.

He had also spent two weeks in Uganda last year with his wife refurbishing a school and teaching children.

His family said "He was full of energy with a constantly positive outlook and a real zest for life that shined through in all he did.

"We take comfort from knowing just how many people he touched.

"He was just so loved by all"

Mr Green was due to start a new job this month as a key worker in a special needs school in Westerham, Kent.

He was driving home after his favourite annual festival Barefoot in Leicestershire which ended the day before the crash.

Oxfordshire teen smokers above national average

By Alexander Ballinger
alexz.taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE number of 15-year-old smokers in Oxfordshire is higher than the national average, according to figures published last week.

The statistics published last Wednesday were gathered from a survey carried out by the Health and Social Care Information Centre (HSCIC) – an arm of the government's Department of Health.

The director of policy at the Action on Smoking and Health (ASH) campaign group Hazel Cheeseman, said: "Oxfordshire is slightly above the national average.

"There's been a steady decrease in young people smoking nationally.

"This is the first time a survey like this has been done.

The national study of 120,115 15-year-olds revealed in Oxfordshire 10.4 per cent were smokers, compared with just eight per cent nationally.

The study refers to current smokers who it defines as anyone who occasionally smokes to anyone who smokes up to six cigarettes a week.

Just over 20 per cent of 15 year olds in Oxfordshire said they had smoked at least once – two per cent above the national average.

Ms Cheeseman added: "It's a timely opportunity for the council to review their strategy and particularly to consider smoking rates among parents.

"We know that parental smoking has a big impact on whether a young person will become a smoker."

But she added despite this Oxfordshire is actually below the national average for adult smoking rates.

The survey was carried out from September 2014 to January this year and aimed to gather information separated by local authority.

Calls for commercial sat navs in lorries

OXFORDSHIRE County Council is urging the government to introduce a new law forcing heavy good vehicles to use special commercial sat navs which keep them off unsuitable county roads.

The council sent a letter to government calling for the new rules to stop lorries damaging roads they do not fit down and keep country lanes safer.

Councillor Kevin Bulmer said: "It's an issue that's widespread throughout Oxfordshire.

"Its basically heavy good vehicles turning up in places they shouldn't be.

"HGVs are being driven down roads that just aren't wide enough and if they're driving down roads that are bit worse for wear it only makes things worse."

Cllr Bulmer raised the issue at a county council meeting last month.

At the meeting, the council unanimously agreed to write to government asking them to legislate to make it compulsory for HGVs to have commercial sat nav systems.

John Howell, regional director for the Road Haulage Association said: "I just don't think it's a workable solution.

"How do you define a commercial satnav?

"Who would pay for the new satnavs?

"And how would you enforce the rules?"

Cllr Bulmer has also asked leader of Oxfordshire County Council Ian Hudspeth to write to the leaders of the other councils in Oxfordshire asking for their support.

He added: "With a commercial satnav you can set the height, weight and dimensions of your lorry and it won't take you down roads you won't fit down.

"If you're ever driving down a small country road and see one of these monsters driving towards you it can raise your blood pressure."

Cokethorpe School

Cokethorpe undefeated in USA and Canada

Cokethorpe School's First XV completed a hugely successful tour to North America during the first two weeks of the summer holiday. The team played a series of fixtures in New York State, USA and Ontario, Canada, against strong local opposition. Cokethorpe's organised defence and creative forward play proved to be unbeatable as the team did not concede a single point, finishing the tour undefeated.

The tour provided an excellent opportunity for players to gain experience against international competition in unfamiliar environments. The opposition's style of play, different playing surfaces and testing weather conditions posed new challenges for the team to overcome. It was also a chance for pupils to gain an insight into North American culture and the growing popularity of rugby in the region.

The summer tour marks the start of the pre-season training programme with pupils returning in August to prepare for the season ahead. The results show that Cokethorpe is set for a promising year with the player's enthusiasm and the team strength demonstrating the merits of the tour. For the Upper Sixth Form students it was a memorable way to end their rugby careers at Cokethorpe, offering excellent preparation as they progress to the senior stage.

Higher Education

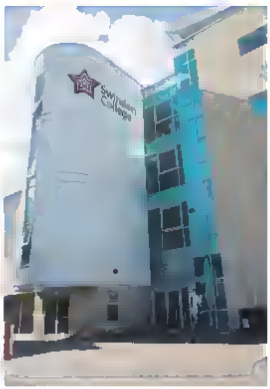
Welcome

Swindon College is the largest provider of Higher Education in Swindon, with over 500 students studying on 25 courses.

Higher Education student numbers at Swindon College have increased by 8.5% this year and more students are seeing the benefits of studying at a local college that fits in with their work and family commitments.

As well as lower fees, you could benefit from smaller class sizes with dedicated tutors, allowing more individual support. We have knowledgeable library staff who can help with researching and referencing and a dedicated Higher Education Student Centre, with study spaces and a social area.

All of our programmes are designed with employment in mind and link directly back to the workplace. On successful completion of your course, you'll have the opportunity to don a gown and mortar board for the official Graduation Ceremony.



Why choose Higher Education at Swindon College...

WHY PAY MORE?

It will cost thousands of pounds less than moving away to study at a larger institution.

CENTRE

...with comfy ...ix in a seati... ...links an inter... ...us an adjoining commuter suite.

SMALLER CLASS SIZES!

Our class sizes are smaller, this means you get more of your lecturer's time and greater support.

Ian Hague – HND Interactive Media

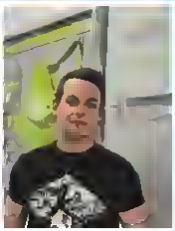
"Studying university level at a college is a lot less intimidating than being at a larger university, we're treated as individuals and I know I can contact my lecturers by email whenever I need to."

Kaya White - HNC Construction

"I make use of the facilities at the college, particularly the Library, which has plenty of resources for us to use and the HE Centre, which is a nice place for quiet study or to relax."

Phil Scarisbrick – Foundation Degree Support for Learning

"I couldn't fault the tutors they treat us as colleagues and the lesson structures keep you engaged the whole time. I know that if I ever need support, I can easily get a one-to-one appointment straightaway."



Bryony Godwin – BA Hons Business, Management and Communications

"My tutors are always available if I need to talk to them and I come in to college once a week to study independently.

The course has been better than I expected and I've definitely got what I wanted to achieve out of it."

The Mousetrap

AGATHA Christie's famous murder mystery 'The Mousetrap' is kicking off the Oxford Playhouse's new 2015 to 2016 season of entertainment next Monday August 17.

First performed in 1952 at Nottingham's Theatre Royal, the thriller focuses on a woman murdered in London whose killer has never been caught.

When a surprise snowstorm barricades a group of visitors in a guest house near the killing, another murder strikes.

There unravels the tale with a twist, who is this mystery murderer?

"I had the pleasure of taking my own children aged 11 and 12 to The Mousetrap for the first time and they enjoyed it tremendously," Agatha Christie's grandson Mathew Pritchard said.

"They crossed off assiduously in their programmes those whom they thought couldn't have done it (the real culprit was excluded at an early stage!)

"And I think it tells us something about the success of the play too: as it contains so much for everybody.

"It has humour, drama, suspense and a jigsaw puzzle which is suitable for all ages and taste and regrettably not too many plays on the London scene can say the same.

By James Richings

"However it was great evening for me and would have been I am sure for my grandmother had she been there."

The Guinness Book of World Records lists Agatha Christie as the best selling novelist of all time, with her crime novels, romance novels and short stories selling over two billion copies worldwide.

The writer, who lived and worked around Wallingford from 1934 until her death in 1976, is buried in Cholsey.

Famous fictional detectives such as Jane Marple, Hercule Poirot, Parker Pyne and Tommy and Tuppence Beresford were all penned by her, with Poirot appearing in 33 novels, one play and more than 50 short stories published between 1920 and 1975.

And The Mousetrap to this day holds the record for the longest initial run at the West End following its debut back in 1952, over 25,000 performances have been staged.

Her dedication and love for literature caught the hearts of the nation which earned the novelist a DBE by Queen Elizabeth II in 1971, four years before her death at the age of 85.

"I suppose it took some time for it to sink in that I had a famous grandmother known to the world as Agatha Christie," Mathew said.

"She could manage to write a book almost without one noticing, and sometimes she used to read the new one to us in the summer down in Devonshire.

"She did so partly I suspect to test the audience's reaction, but partly to entertain us on the inevitable wet afternoons when, no doubt, I was rather difficult to amuse!

"I think most of my friends who met her during those years were quite astonished that such a mild, gentle grandmother could really be the authoress of all those stories of intrigue, murder and jealousy."

Mathew also revealed that he received The Mousetrap on his ninth birthday.

Tickets cost from £14 to £30 with the production suitable for over 14s.

Playhouse line-up announced

SHOWS at the Oxford Playhouse return this week after a brief summer hiatus with a line up of performances announced running until October.

The 2015/16 season at the Beaumont Street theatre will kick off on Monday August 17 with Agatha Christie's 'The Mousetrap' – the longest running show in the history of British theatre.

Ending the opening month will be family favourite 'Room on the Broom' which focuses on a witch whose broom snaps after herself, her cat, a frog, dog and bird all hop on.

The play based one a book by Julia Donaldson and Axel Scheffler runs from August 25 until August 29.

September will be the month of diversity as a number of comics, productions, dances, musicians and talks are staged.

Starting off the month will be dance show 4x4 in which four ballet dancers and four jugglers collaborate on September 2.

This will b followed up with dance show 'Strike!' on September 3 while children's puppetry production, 'Old Mother Hubbard' on September 5 will be performed by the very popular Garlic Theatre Company.

The first music act to take the stage will be Jess Green & The Mischief Thieves on September 7.

By James Richings
jamesr@tigernewspapers.co.uk

Burning Books will see Jess Green perform her passionate poems about British education which will include her poem 'Dear Mr Gove' with The Mischief Thieves providing original backing tracks.

Also at the Playhouse will be comics Josh Widdicombe on September 9 and Nina Conti on September 12.

September will see 'Sancho: An Act of Remembrance' performed from September 17 to September 19 which focuses on the British Slave Trade in the 1700s.

And drama-comedy play 'Handbagged' looks at the relationship between Queen Elizabeth II and former Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher from September 28 to October 3.

During October children's production 'What to do When You Find a Dinosaur' will take the stage from October 7 to October 11 followed up by Shakespeare's play 'The Tempest'.

The famous production is at the theatre for 10 days from October 14 to October 24.

Ending the month on a different note will be the visit of BBC Security Correspondent Gordon Corera who will discuss about espionage, diplomacy and international business.

Reliving the best of rock

HITS from the likes of AC/DC, The Eagles and Foo Fighters mastered by musician Darren Hunt will by performed at the Royal Standard pub in Headington this Saturday August 15.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylormorgan.co.uk

The full-time singer will visit the London Road boozer for the third time as he embarks on small tour across Oxfordshire, Hampshire, Gloucestershire and Wiltshire throughout August.

And Darren said if the set calls for something original he would be happy to oblige.

"It fascinates me how music can make both musicians and listeners feel so many different emotions," he said.

"In a typical gig, the song choices and music help us to forget our worries and make us feel good.

"To be able to share that as a musician is incredible."

Alongside performing Darren is also a guitar teacher and has raised money for Cancer Research UK.

He is working on new tracks but has not as yet officially releasing any singles or albums in his musical career.

Darren's focus has been on inspiring a new generation of rockers through gigs, lessons and contributions to music including supporting other musicians, recording radio jingles and helping produce music for films and backing tracks.

"I'm fortunate enough to be able to call myself a 'professional musician' when not performing and recording however, the only thing better than being a full time musician is being a dad to my two lovely children Austyn and Violet," he said.

"The numbers of performing bands and musicians is decreasing and if live music is not supported it will reduce and even cut out live music altogether.

"To have the opportunity to watch musicians up close in your own local and to be able talk to them afterwards is a real privilege and it's one of the few times you can be that close to any performing musicians.

"And if we want to continue to be proud of our music scene we need to remember that the younger generation is the future and we must do our best to inspire them to continue."

The free event starts at 8pm.

Ben Van der Velde has been dizzying himself on the stand-up merry-go-round for the past five years. In that time, this has been said about him:

*"exquisite comic timing. wonderfully clownish physical comedy."– British Theatre Guide

*"Flaunted his razor sharp wit to hilarious effect leaving the audience bent over double."– Three Weeks

*"Highly promising...an accomplished comic."– Time Out

Phil Chapman began performing in 2006 at a local Chinese restaurant, he was asked to leave soon into the performance, but such was the reaction of the crowd – a rapturous round of applause – he decided to pursue a career via more conventional means.

*"A good stage presence, with jokes to match" – Gigglebeats

*"An instant hit"– Liverpool Echo

Toyota announces new safety gadgets

• A 2014 Toyota Yaris Hyb

SAFETY is the current buzzword in the Toyota team

The Japanese car manufacturer has added extra safety features and options to some of its cars

Dubbed Toyota Safety Sense they are being rolled out across the range following its introduction earlier this year in the new Avensis and Auris, whilst the Aygo and Yaris customers can now specify the package as an option on their new car

The Aygo city car and Yaris supermini are now available with Toyota Safety Sense a set of four safety features

On Aygo Toyota Safety Sense provides a laser-controlled pre collision system which warns the driver of an imminent collision with a vehicle ahead and readies pre-crash brake assist to deliver emergency braking as soon as the brake pedal is pressed.

If the driver fails to react after the warning, the system will initiate autonomous emergency braking to reduce speed by about 19mph.

The pre-collision system works at speeds between 10 and 86mph when the relative speed between the Toyota and the car ahead is greater than 10mph.

A lane departure alert function is also included.

This monitors lane markings on the road and helps prevent accidents and head on collisions caused by a vehicle moving out of its lane

If the car starts to deviate from its lane without the indicators being used, the system alerts the driver with visual and audible warnings

The same Toyota Safety Sense features are available for the Yaris, together with automatic high beam.

This detects both the headlights of oncoming vehicles and the taillights of vehicles ahead, automatically switching between high and low beams to avoid dazzling other drivers and improving the driver's night time vision

Also road sign assist monitors the road signs ahead, displaying useful information such as the current speed limit or overtaking restrictions in clear view on the cockpit display

Priced at £375 Toyota Safety Sense is available now as an option on all Aygo models apart from the X grade

The package for Yaris (all grades apart from Active) costs £400

Carnell bags himself a hat-trick in 5-1 win

DIDCOT Town captain Luke Carnell was the hat trick hero for his side as The Diddy laid down a marker for the rest of the season in a 5-1 win over Bishops Cleeve on Tuesday

Goals from Connor McDonagh and Josh Dutton Black added gloss to the scoreline in a match which saw joint-manager Jamie Heapy celebrate his 850th game

Cleeve's Leroy Odiero scored the visitors' sahlary goal

Cleeve would not have been looking forward to their return to the Loop Meadow stadium after John Mills netted five last season in an 8-2 win back in March

Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy's squad would not let the Gloucestershire side forget it as they put the visitors to the sword in a high calibre performance

The match was tight in the opening stages with both sides looking to strike early blows and McDonagh opened the scoring after latching on to a loose ball and pulling it past

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan.t@glosnewspapers.co.uk

the visitors' keeper Sam Gilder

However Cleeve soon equalised with Leigh Bedwell beaten from close range after Odiero climbed highest to head in Aaron Drake's corner in the 27th minute

Didcot were quickly back in front through Dutton Black as he blasted an effort from range after he was played in by Mark Janes to take the score to 2-1 at half time

Cleeve came out of the blocks firing in the second half but Carnell managed to snatch his first of the day after placing a bullet header from a Marvin Marlin corner past Glider in the 55th minute

Carnell's second came from a blocked free-kick that he lashed into the net from just outside the box in the 85th minute before Matt Woodley was brought down for a penalty

Carnell then stepped up and sent the keeper the wrong way to secure his hat trick an impressive feat from the defender

It comes after Didcot kick started their season last Saturday with a thrilling 3-1 win at Larkhall Athletic in which McDonagh scored his first competitive brace for the Diddy and that saw Adam Learoyd also find the net.

Next up for The Diddy is a visit from Taunton Town as they aim to make three wins from three in what promises to be a very exciting campaign.

Blues put up a fight in York defeat

OXFORD RL put up a strong fight in their Kingstone Press League 1 encounter with York City Knights in a 36-28 defeat

The Blues came close in victory in the tight affair but York's Jack Blagbrough's late try was the nail in the coffin of what was a very spirited performance

The Knights lost Jack Aldous early on who was shown red for striking out with just six minutes on the clock

However the hosts soon found themselves 10-0 up in the encounter after Ben Dent and Blagbourgh crossed with James Haynes converting

Josh Nathaniel provided Oxford their first try of the game and Nathan Kilson added the extras for the Blues

Haynes then converted his own try for a 16-6 score before Oxford's Craig Cook went over and Kilson successfully kicked true

The Knights' Greg Minikin then went further ahead through a converted try before Josh Tonks burst through a scored another try for Oxford.

Minkin scored again for York to make it 30-12

Oxford's Kyle Danns and York's Andrew Hoggins crossed before York sealed off the win through Blagbrough.

Oxford suffer blow from Reading in 4-0 defeat

OXFORD United Women were outclassed in a 4-0 defeat to Reading in the FA Women's Super League 2 last Sunday

New United signing Destiney Toussaint was put straight into the United side up front but the U's were missing captain Sahara Osborne-Ricketts who was suspended.

Reading got the breakthrough after 14 minutes when Helen Ward slipped through the ranks to fire home an effort after receiving a through ball from midfield

United began to press forward but Reading then went two goals up after Nikki Watts was left unmarked to fire home a second for the away side in the 38th minute

The United defence was beginning to creak under the pressure and just two minutes later Ward sent a dangerous ball over the top for Rebecca Jane to blast into the net

Reading could have had their fourth just after the break when Nia Jones was denied from close range by United's Hannah Cox.

The fourth goal then came through Emma Follis who planted the ball into the net on the turn in the 58th minute

United tried to squeeze in a consolation past Reading keeper Grace Moloney with Kayleigh Hines free kick batted away from close range

United will travel to the Solihull Moors to take on Birmingham City Ladies this Sunday.

Ox Saints in 'best form' ahead of Thunder test

OXFORD Saints defence coach Andy Peart has claimed the side are in the best form they've been in all year as they swiped Jurassic Coast Raptors aside in a 41-0 ahead of their play off confrontation with Sussex Thunder

The Saints are due to travel to Brighton on August 23 for the game that has been dubbed Saints biggest in nearly 10 years

In 2006 Saints won the Division 2 title and now the squad are three games away from repeating the feat

Peart said ahead of the game "We feel like we are on an upward curve and now we are fine tuning the player's performances ahead of the clash

"We know we are heading in the right direction and we are currently in the best form we've been all year

"The players are well aware of the history of this side and we cannot wait to take to the field and win this game"

The sides last fared each other in a pre season friendly at the beginning of this year in a 53-20 defeat for the Saints

Peart said of the clash "We played our first team in the first half of that game and swapped things round at half time.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"We know we are a much better team now then when we were at the start of the season"

The Saints took on the Raptors in a friendly at Abingdon Rugby Club last Sunday and Peart said the game presented a chance to test the club's fringe players

He said "The game was about giving a chance to our fringe players to step up and claim a place in the play off team and some of them gave us something to think about"

In terms of picking Saints player of the season Pearl was of high praise for running back James Walter

The star player rushed over 1,000 yards in just eight games

Peart added "Walter has been absolutely outstanding we are not reliant on him but he has been absolutely outstanding"

The game with Sussex Thunder will take place at Brighton Rugby Football Club in Brighton with kick off at 2.30pm

Smith bullish ahead of Brno test

OXFORD S Bradley Smith is looking for the fight as he heads to the Czech Republic to score more top results as he prepares for the 11th round of the 2015 MotoGP World Championship in Brno

Smith intends to continue his impressive form aboard his Yamaha YZR-M1 to grab another high finish in Sunday's race

The Monster Yamaha Tech3 rider said "The Czech Grand Prix at Brno is a circuit I really enjoy racing on and I think we can do a thorough job there this weekend"

Smith produced a fantastic display to take sixth place in the Indianapolis MotoGP on Sunday night.

The Oxford rider started from ninth on the grid and managed to get as high as fifth before subsequently finishing in sixth by the race's conclusion

Smith is in a confident mood as he heads to Brno and is currently in fifth in the championship on 97 points after 10 rounds

He added. "There will be work to do but I am going to push as hard as possible so that I can hopefully cross the line as the leading satellite rider again.

After Brno, Smith claims he will focus on the 12th round of the GP which is at Silverstone on the Bank Holiday weekend and a rare he claims is one of the highlights of his year

United grab draw against Marlow's 10

BANBURY United earned their first point of the season after Marlow came back to earn themselves a point in an exciting game at Oak Tree Road on Tuesday night

A late goal from Chris Ovenden prevented United from snatching all three points after Leam Howards put them ahead in the first half

United got their break through in the 20th minute when Zac McEachran played in Howards to knock the ball into the net from just six yards out

Marlow came out in the second half looking to snatch a result, and Banbury keeper Jack Harding did well to turn an Ovenden shot away from the goal shortly after the restart

The home side were then down to 10 men after Devon tae Romeo was sent off for a second yellow card offence.

However this didn't seem to affect Marlow as they launched forward attack after attack, and in the 72nd minute lovely passing from Jordan Brown and Ovenden led to the latter sweeping the ball into the net for the equaliser

Neither side managed to steal the win and it seemed that both sides believed it to be a fair result come the full time whistle

United now travel away to Bridgwater Town in Somerset this Saturday

Plato back in business with double podium at Snetterton

OXFORD S Jason Plato surged into a 16 point lead in the British Touring Car Championship after securing two podium finishes at Snetterton at the weekend.

Plato entered the weekend 10 points back but secured a second a third and a fourth place position across the weekend's three races at the 3 mile Norfolk circuit

Gordon Shedden, Plato's rival had led the championship going into the race but Plato's performance meant he took the mantle as the Championship returned after a summer break.

The Team BMR racing driver was more than happy with his team's performance across the weekend

The 47-year-old tweeted. "Cracking performance yet again from everyone at @TeamBMRBTCC well done and thanks boys and girls"

Plato's teammate Colm Turkington also had a strong weekend as he earned a double victory at the weekend

The Oxford driver had to settle for third in the opening race after qualifying in the position but was unable to challenge Turkington in the race

The weekend's second race saw Plato take fourth but he settled the weekend in style with a second place finish as he battled MG Triple Eight Racing's Jack Goff who earned his first PTCC victory

Plato is now on 230 points, with teammate Turkington on 214

Teen scoops gold with Team GB in Sweden

A 15 YEAR OLD girl from Faringdon made history as part of the Great Britain team that won gold in this year's FEI European Pony Dressage Championships for the first time

Rebecca Bell was part of the team that took part in the tournament, held in Malmo, Sweden is for riders aged 14 to 16 on ponies

The team was compiled by Isobel Barrington 15 from Welwyn, Hertfordshire, Clare Hole, 13 from Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk, and Phoebe Peters 16 from Moreton in Marsh Gloucestershire

Rebecca considered one of the veterans of the team was up third in day two of the competition and put in a polished performance to score 71.077 per cent

The team's overall score was 79.974 per cent, which promoted Britain to gold overtaking the Danish team

The 15-year old finished 13th in the individual test and Rebecca finished eighth in the freestyle competition with a score of 73.925 per cent

British Dressage chief executive Jason Brautigam said "The team and individual performances were nothing short of spectacular

"These four riders met the challenge head on and they rode with exceptional skill and flair

"Of course behind every performance is a great support team and while the riders have to perform in the area a great deal goes on behind the scenes to get them there"

Sport Bites

Milton held

FOOTBALL Milton United were held to a goalless draw with Wokingham and Emmbrook at the Triangle Ground on Tuesday night

The result was United's first point of the season after they suffered a 1-0 defeat to Thame United at The Heights on Saturday

Milton will travel down to Holyport to take them on the FA Cup at Summerleaze Village on Saturday

Ardley beaten

FOOTBALL Ardley United's first home league match of the season ended in a disappointing 2-0 defeat to Long levens on Tuesday evening in the Hellenic League Premier Division

The away side's Craig Martin and Dave Merrick got the goals to condemn Ardley to their first defeat of the season after their 1-1 draw with Binfield last Saturday

Ardley will now take an Tuffley Rovers in the FA Cup at the Playing Fields this Saturday

Late goal in Thame loss

FOOTBALL Thame United were unlucky to concede a last minute goal in their 2-1 defeat in Binfield at the ASM Stadium.

Danny Horscroft's late goal saw the Berkshire side take him all three points with Khalid Sensussi putting Binfield in front early on before Ben Gray was able to head in from a goalmouth scramble

Thame United are next up against Farnham Town at the ASM Stadium in the FA Cup on Sunday

FANS PRAISED IN HISTORIC CUP WIN

United hit four past Brentford in surprise victory

OXFORD United were in huge praise of their fans who sung to them to Capital One Cup glory in a historic 4 0 win over Championship side Brentford at Griffin Park on Wednesday

United recorded the biggest away win in League Cup history by a fourth tier side versus a team from the top two tiers as Liam Sercombe, Danny Hylton Kemar Roofe and John Mullins fired the U s into the second round.

Roofe s was the pick of the goals superbly lobbing Jack Bonham from 40 yards after collecting the keeper s ill-advised headed clearance to put United 3 0 up after 12 minutes

The result was United first win in eight attempts at Griffin Park against a side that had made eleven changes from their 2 2 draw with Ipswich Town on Saturday

Goalscorer Roofe said "The fans were amazing. They really lifted us and when I scored I ran just about the length of the pitch because there are some moments you just want to share with fans like that"

Fellow goalscurer Mullins added. "It was a great night for everyone but especially with the support we had They travel all over the country and are always brilliant but I thought they did themselves and the club proud."

Head coach Michael Appleton said the fans were making a tremendous noise right from the warm up to the final whistle

He said "Even in the warm up they were making a tremendous noise and the way they got behind us from the very start played a part in the way we played

"The whole end seemed to be bouncing from start to finish and there were terrific scenes after the final whistle"

United will now head off to Luton this Saturday as they look to get their first league win of the season after a frustrating 1 1 draw with newly relegated Crawley Town last Saturday at the Kassam Stadium

Appleton added "Luton will be a big game and I'm sure that the fans will be with us in numbers once again and give us some fantastic support
